

Student Satisfaction Survey (SSS)

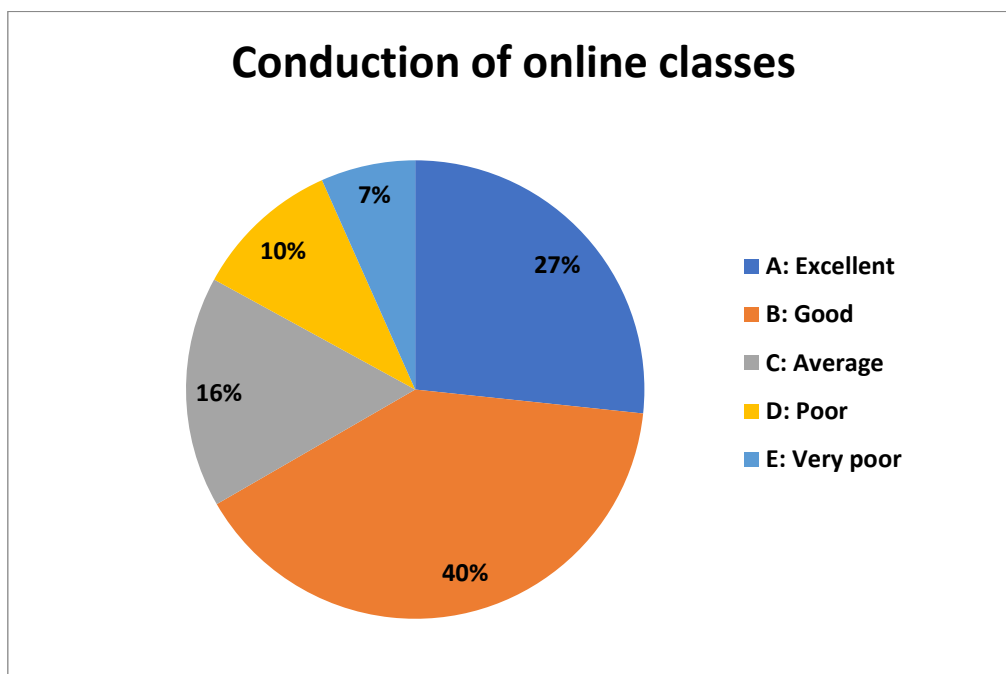

KHALISANI MAHAVIDYALAYA

Session: 2020-2021

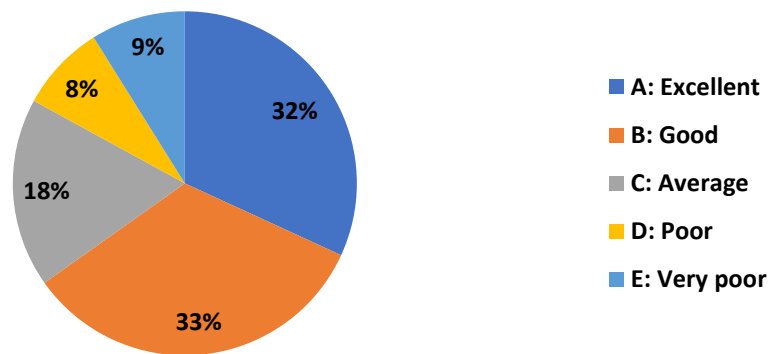

IQAC of Khalisani Mahavidyalaya considers Student Satisfaction Survey (SSS) as an important tool for assessment of any academic institution and this analysis was done previously in each year with utmost seriousness. But in 2020-2021 due to pandemic condition we are very puzzled and the after primary shock of the pandemic, our main focus was our student's future and about the ongoing academic session so that we can minimize the academic loss. We were keenly following Government or University guidelines to continue classes in online mode to complete the syllabus. This, needless to mention, remains our primary focus. Beside addressing this academic uncertainty, we were personally going through a thanatophobic condition aggrieved by the death of near and dear ones. The then prevailing situation was indescribable and unprecedented, to say the least.

Nevertheless, we were able to collect little response of Student Satisfaction Survey (SSS) at the later part of this session only in regard to the online teaching learning process and online examination. After analysis we found quite satisfying results which may inspire our effort.

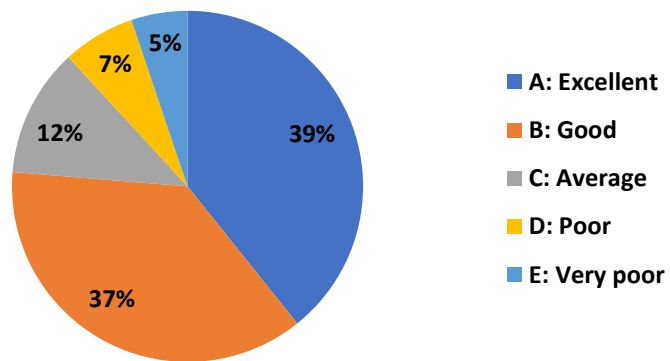

Brief of the SSS is given below:

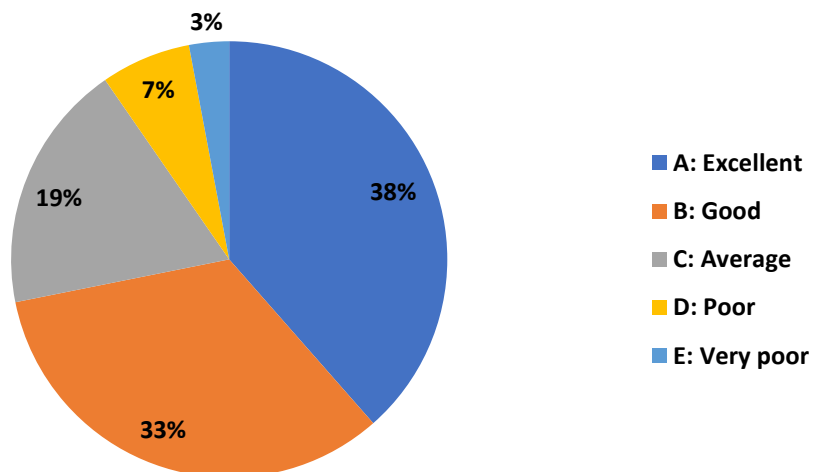

Teacher-student interaction in online mode

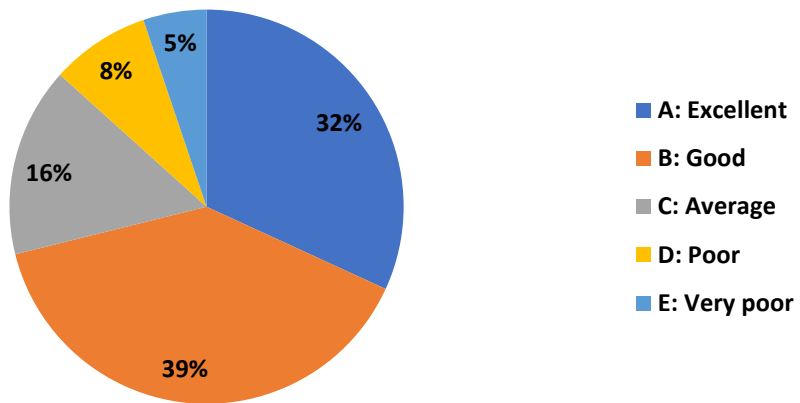

Availability on study materials in online mode

Syllabus completion

Examination procedures

Overall experience in online mode of teaching learning
